2. Admission

Hannah Avenue children's home takes all possible care to ensure that all the children accommodated meet all of the criteria for registration, placement continuation, and eventual discharge as and when appropriate.

The accommodation is arranged in smaller group living, which is mainly age related, with recognition of the requirements of the differing age groups, stages and need. Placement length is also a consideration when living groups are arranged. In respect of all admissions, the assessment and approval process will always consider the needs of any new child concerned and the likely effects of their admission upon the existing group of children and young people which includes appropriate risk assessments. Ensuring that no one child or young person admitted presents a known significant risk likely to compromise the safety or developmental opportunities of any other.

Hannah Avenue aims to, where possible, undertake the following criteria:

- Inform the child or young person concerned, along with any person with parental responsibility of the pre-admission assessment.
- Consider all information from partners involved in the child or young person's care.
- Arrange where possible to meet the child or young person in their current placement prior to them visiting Hannah Avenue.
- Provide opportunities for the child or young person to visit the home prior to admission.
- Agree with social work teams the tasks, preferred outcomes as outlined in the care plan and generate placement plans.
- Review the placement and care plans within 28 days of admission and then three and six month respectively. Further reviews will take place at least every six months or as requested if necessary. This may be carried out in conjunction with the placing authority.
- Inform Local Authority (Devon) of all admissions to Hannah Avenue.

DHRC may from time to time close areas of the provision in order to ensure that peer group needs and developmental needs can be met. All relevant assessments will be made and parents, carers and relevant authorities will be notified.

Emergency Admission

Within the short breaks service emergency short and longer term placements for children and young people will be considered. Any new child would need a full assessment before being allowed to use the service and the needs of those currently receiving care will be assessed in the light of a potential new admission. Agreement of funding and payment of fees required by Dame Hannah Rogers Charity is put in writing by the placing authority on the day of admission and before the child or young person arrives at the home.

This level of support and observation many be required to continue throughout the night. Each child and young persons individual needs will be assessed and if identified that, for the purpose of safeguarding and promoting the welfare of that child or young person, overnight monitoring will be agreed. This could be in the form of auditory monitoring, regular checks, live stream (none recorded) or 1-1 support throughout the night. This level of need will be regularly reviewed and altered accordingly.

Children and young people are also encouraged to participate in projects to support the local community. These projects include; raising money for local charities through cake sales, craft sales and organised events.

9. Education provision and 24 hour learning

The 24 hour learning is designed to help children and young people to consolidate their learning in a meaningful structured way by incorporating their learning targets into their daily life outside school

The Waking Hours Curriculum (WHC) is a vehicle for providing each child and young person with a planned and integrated programme of activities outside of the school day in the evening and at the weekend so that each individual's potential for learning and enjoyment is fully realised.

This describes all that is planned to teach and encourage our children and young people to learn during the time they are at school. It includes all that happens in formal teaching situations this may be delivered as part of the National Curriculum, accredited courses or other formal or informal learning procedures provided during meal times and informal leisure and other activities within residence. Some of the curriculum is 'hidden' in the sense that it is not written down and there is no conscious intention to teach it. The term 'hidden curriculum' often refers to those values and beliefs that are held by the staff and are offered consciously and unconsciously to the children through our verbal and body language, general social interaction, dress etc.

In describing the WHC we acknowledge in a formal way that not all formal learning takes place inside the school hours or classroom and that equally not all informal learning takes place outside the classroom setting.

The implementation of a WHC demonstrates that there is a clear 'value added' element for those children who benefit from the residential experience.

It offers the opportunity to use a variety of settings and learning environments to:

- Develop leisure skills

- Develop skills involved in making choices
- Deliver curriculum experiences
- Teach new life skills
- Reinforce and rehearse previously taught skills
- Enhance self-esteem and self-advocacy
- Develop independence skills

The Home will ensure that they are aware of young people's day to day contact and progress within education and will strive to ensure a consistent approach is taken in supporting topics of learning, communication and life skills. This information is captured in Home/School communication books, IEP targets and an awareness of what the current themes may be within any school environment. The aim being to empower the young person to engage in fun activities for them to explore and enjoy these opportunities.

10. Leisure and social activities

All children and young people are consulted and encouraged to take as much ownership of their own lives as they are able by making choices and being given the opportunity to 'Voice' their opinions with regards to their leisure and social activities through House meetings chaired by a senior team member. Their right to a social life and leisure time is recognised within the home with a wide variety of social and leisure activities agreed with the children and young people. Choices are presented in an appropriate format for the children and young people to understand to their potential and be fully informed. The children and young people always have access to their communication systems as appropriate in order that they can express their choices.

Interaction as part of the wider community is encouraged with regular visits to local amenities and as Devon is a tourist area these are numerous and diverse e.g. local beaches, Dartmoor, parks, shopping, cinema, ice-skating, adventure parks. Children and young people are given the opportunity to attend church and other cultural activities that they choose. We are fortunate to have in-house facilities too, such as a sensory room, hydrotherapy pool and activity hall for many and varied activities which reinforce the daytime curriculum. Children and young people have the opportunity to opt for other activities, such as music, videos, talking books CDs, DVDs and tablets.

11. Support good behaviour, order and conduct

Hannah Avenue have a comprehensive Behaviour Management Policy, which aims to promote appropriate behaviour through positive reinforcement and celebration of success. We encourage all members of our community to adhere to our Hannah Avenue House Rules. These have been developed by the young people and are:

Treat other people as you would like them to treat you.

Please knock on my door and wait for an answer before opening my door.
Please respect my belonging and the environment we live in.

(Respect - Everyone has a right to respect and tolerance)

Talk to me not the person supporting me.
Everyone has a voice, please let me be heard.

(Communication - Everyone has a right to speak and be heard)

Be polite, well mannered and helpful.

Be respectful when I'm sleeping and keep the noise down.

*(Accountability - behaviour is personal but affects others.
You are responsible for your own behaviour)*

Kind hands and feet

(Safety - Don't be physically aggressive)

Whilst maintaining a secure, relaxed and friendly atmosphere it is possible to encourage mutual respect between children, young people and staff. The severe and profound nature of the children and young peoples' challenges means that sanctions are not used in the usual understanding of the word. We encourage positive behaviour through reward and celebration of success. Where intervention is necessary, it will usually be based on a multi-disciplinary planned system of encouragement leading to achievement of specific goals. Any imposed discipline is normally very limited and never punitive. The Behaviour Policy is regularly reviewed. When implementation of a behaviour programme becomes necessary families and young people are consulted and involved and all actions are well documented.

Staff members strive to engender a sense of belonging and personal worth in children and young people living at Hannah Avenue. There is an awareness within the staff that emotional distress and lack of comprehension can manifest in disruptive behaviour and that this must be managed and responded to sensitively. This aspect of behaviour management is covered within our training programme and provides the cornerstone of de-escalation and diffusion.

We are committed to creating an ethos within the home that ensures no member of staff, child or young person is subjected to intimidation, discrimination, racial or sexual harassment or any form of harassment or bullying. We also recognise that for some children or young people that bully may be doing this due to experiences of being bullied themselves. This too will be addressed in a non judgemental and positive manner where the act of bullying is not an acceptable behaviour.

If a significant incident occurs at Hannah Avenue, it will be reported to parents/carers, social workers, and when necessary, to Ofsted.

The Registered Manager has a clear responsibility to conduct regular monitoring of incidents and patterns of behaviour and will pay particular attention to potential for stereotyping, labelling, bullying, personality clashes and misuse of procedures.

Due to the nature and severity of disability absconding is not likely to be an issue, though there is a comprehensive missing child policy in place.

12. Engagement with children and young people

All children and young people will be actively encouraged and supported to take part in discussions relating to the operation of the home and the home environment using their own communication system. Information presented is broken down by staff in an accessible format (including use of objects, photos and symbols), so that children and young people can understand to the best of their ability and communicate their preferences and choices. Children and young people will be given opportunities to participate in activities of their choice and will always have their views, feelings and wishes listened to by staff in relation to any aspects of the service provision. House meetings take place on a monthly basis where children and young people are encouraged to express their feelings and views. This gives them an opportunity to make decisions which are beneficial to them and to the smooth running of the home as a whole.

It is also the opportunity to make suggestion and comment on the home via a suggestion box, this enables a voice of the child to be heard at all times.

Consultation will also take place through individual key worker and multi-disciplinary supported sessions. This process will enable children and young people to have an active say in the running of the home or decisions which are important to them. Children and young people are also consulted about their care plans, and prior to any CIC review, Aims for progression and IEP meetings.

There are systems in place within the home which enable children and young people to raise concerns in a private fashion through the formal complaints procedure and complaints book.

All young people have the opportunity to express any alternative point of contact to express and concerns they may have.

13. Complaints and representations

We have a clear policy and procedure for managing comments and complaints. A copy of our complaints policy and procedure is available to all families, children, young people and placing authority. The complaints book is presented in an accessible format using symbol and photographs and the language is simplified. All complaints should be directed where appropriate to a senior member of staff or Registered Manager.

Complaints received to the children's home from the children or other sources are regularly reviewed and audited.

No complaint is considered too trivial to be given full and serious attention and we believe that with an open and honest dialogue most concerns can be resolved informally by discussion.

On admission all children and young people will be given a complaints guide which has guidance on how to raise a complaint. We will ensure this information is provided in a format which aids understanding. Significant family members and placing social workers will also be given these documents.

Information regarding the complaints procedure is one of the issues discussed at the beginning of a placement. It is also discussed via the Placement Planning Meeting with parents/carers and social workers. The complaints procedure is an agenda item in house meetings and recorded in the minutes, the process and how a young person can complain is explored in CIC and CIN meetings to establish how each young person has the opportunity to do so.

All children and young people have opportunities to raise any issues which concern them. House meetings take place on a monthly basis and young people are encouraged to express themselves on how the home is run and any improvements that they feel could be made. Children, young people and families may use the Compliments, Concerns and Complaints process and young people have a Complaints Book available to them. All concerns and complaints are investigated and reported on. The open nature of the establishment enables concerns from families, children and young people to be dealt with in a fair and just manner.

While every care is taken throughout the process to remain objective and impartial in relation to the complaints we acknowledge that children and young people may wish to discuss their complaint with, or seek representation from a person not employed at Hannah Avenue.

Parents/carers, other significant family members or visiting advocates may act as representatives on behalf of a child or young person. In any event, it is essential that social workers and those with parental responsibility be kept informed throughout the complaints procedure.

It is important to note that if the issue relates to a member of staff they will be made aware of the complaint but will not interview the child or young person. A staff member who is the subject of a complaint may not initially be given the full details of the complaint until the Registered Manager or other senior manager has completed a fact finding enquiry.

Comments and complaints records are monitored by the Registered Manager, Regulation 44 visits and monitoring visits by the Responsible Individual. These records are also available to inspectors from Ofsted and if appropriate the young person's placing authority. Complaints can also be made directly to Ofsted and these will be monitored in the inspection procedures.

The welfare of all children and young people accommodated at Hannah Avenue is of paramount concern at all times.

If a host authority believe a child or young person accommodated at Hannah Avenue Children's Home is at risk of harm they may request an additional care review. This is to further safeguard the child or young person's wellbeing and ensure that they are receiving the highest possible care and are being kept safe from potential harm. Senior staff at the home will work closely with all host authorities to provide a consistently high level of care and safeguarding.

The Registered Manager has undertaken a "Location Assessment" as directed under the Children's Homes Regulations 2015, to take steps in order to ensure that the premises used for the purposes of the home are located so that children are effectively safeguarded and can access services to meet their needs as set out in their care or placement plans.

The Location Assessment will be reviewed on a 6 monthly basis and or whenever issues are identified amendments made and action taken where necessary. Letters will be sent out to all appropriate local services asking for updates on any identified issues and the Registered Manager will analyse publically available local data.

15. Governance and quality assurance

Hannah Avenue Children's Home is inspected up to twice a year by Ofsted. Ofsted is a government organisation that inspects children's homes to make sure they are run well, appropriately staffed and resourced and follow the children's individual care and placement plans providing the best possible outcomes for children and young people.

Ofsted's telephone number: 0300 123 1231

In addition to Ofsted's visits, Hannah Avenue children's home is visited monthly by Dialogue our independent visitor, whose role it is to assess all relevant information and form 'a rigorous and impartial assessment of the home's arrangements for safeguarding and promoting the welfare of the children in the home. The Independent Visitor will also consult with the team, stakeholders, children and young people and the Registered Manager to gain a full understanding of events of the previous month for all aspects and opinions.

The findings will be used to monitor the performance of Hannah Avenue on specific matters relating to childcare practices and performance of staff in meeting the desired outcomes for the home and children and young person's placed there.

Regulation 45 reports that explores the quality of care delivered are completed by the Registered Manager monthly. These reports are forwarded to Ofsted and the CRO/Directorate. 16. Arrangement for review of placements Children, young people and their families should be active participants in the care planning process where possible. During the initial Placement Planning Meeting and subsequent reviews, they will have access to reports and be invited and supported to submit their own views. Any significant change to the Placement Plan outside of a young person's review will not take place without prior consultation with the child, young person, parents/carers, Social Worker and any other significant party.

The first formal meeting will be the initial placement meeting, this will take place usually within 14 days of the admission date. Following the planning meeting, subsequent reviews for young people accommodated at Hannah Avenue are held as per "Looked After Children" requirements.

Prior to any review, the wishes and feelings of the child or young person are sought and recorded by their appropriate Key Support Worker. The young person's views are very important through the care planning process and reviews. If a child or young person does not feel comfortable expressing their views during the review meeting they can request that a member of staff advocates on their behalf or a specialist advocacy service can be sought supported by Dame Hannah Rogers Speech and Language Department. The SLT will meet with the advocate prior to meeting the child/ young person to explain their levels of understanding and how the young person expresses him/ herself. The SLT will also be available as needed to support the advocate's face to face session.

The Registered Manager will contribute to each child or young person's placement plan which will identify areas of assessed need, tasks and objectives. The plan will identify who will be responsible for meeting these needs and ensure that agreed outcomes are reached within the stated timescales. The Registered Manager will be responsible for ensuring that the Local Authority minutes of the meeting and the home's report are held on the child or young person's file.

Guidance will be issued to all members of staff responsible for writing review reports. A representative of the home will attend all reviews. This will usually be the key worker and/or the Registered Manager. The key worker is responsible for monitoring the Placement Plan and highlighting any progress or difficulties regarding the placement at the home. Written copies of the review report will be made available to a young person, their parents/carers and Social Worker prior to the review.

All young people will be encouraged to attend their reviews and they will receive appropriate levels of support dependant on their age and level of understanding.

A permanent record of the proceedings and recommendations of the review shall be kept within the child or young people's files. A copy is also given to parents/carers, child or young person and all other relevant people.
